Students Divide Their Day Between . .

Classroom And School Activities

One of the most important groups in promoting school spirit is the Varsity Cheerleaders. They work very hard planning pep rallies, making posters, and practicing cheers. They attended a summer camp to help prepare them for this. They also helped with the decorations at the sports banquets and with the activities during Homecoming Week. Each week during football season, the cheerleaders sold spirit ribbons to raise money for their various projects throughout the year. Leading this group were Tri-Captains: Lisa Burgess, Beth Chapman, and Joy Childers. Mrs. Annis Ledford sponsored this outstanding group. This year's Varsity Cheerleaders were:

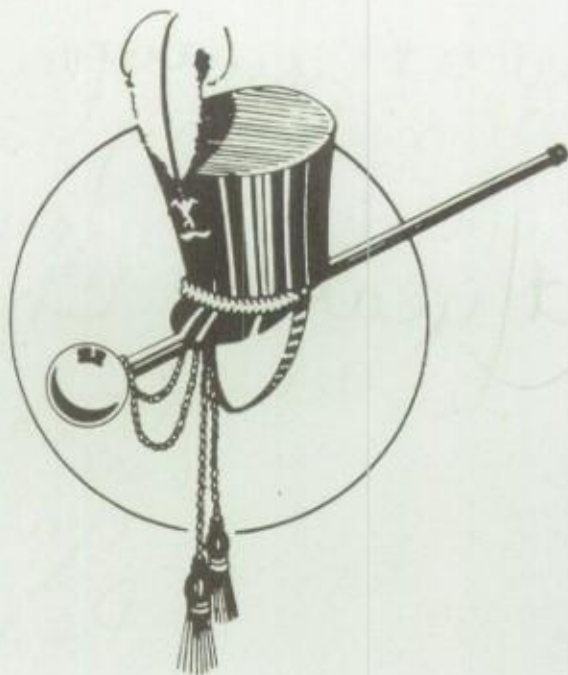

Beth Chapman
 Joy Childers
 Lisa Burgess
 Laurel Morrow
 Donna Morrow
 Lynn Robbins
 Shelly Earley
 Patty Jones
 Lisa Toney
 Dawn Robbins
 Barbie Doggett

The Trojan Band melodiously played their way throughout the year competing in several contests and marching in numerous parades. The group had a new director this year, Mr. Larry Groh. He worked diligently to make the 1980-81 Trojan Band a big success. The band's enthusiasm at pep rallies and football games made them more enjoyable for all.

The band sold fruit at Christmas and sold concessions at football games to raise money for them to represent the school in various activities during the year. They also presented two concerts this year in conjunction with the chorus.

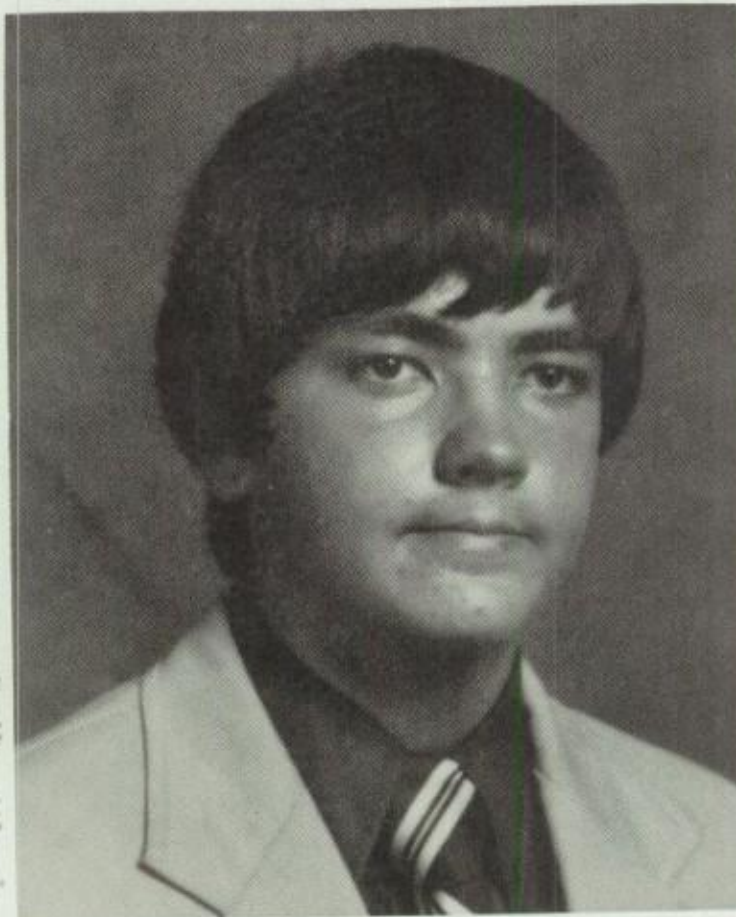

If Only For A While

Again a friend reminded me
How many days are few
For Him who suddenly becomes
A special friend to you
You get together, and you wish
Through all your smiles and tears
That you had known each other for
A little while or so
And suddenly there comes the time
For one of you to go
Some friendships last for many years
And some for just a day
But who are we to question God
And His mysterious way?
And in the last analysis
We thank Him with a smile
For one more friendship on this earth
If only for a while.

Maturity was a good word to describe this year for us. We took our classes more seriously and, in general, became more settled. We really worked hard on selling those magazines, raising over $9500. School spirit came to mean alot as we were thinking ahead to graduation with only one more year to go. We were just a little time away from being True Trojans.

We will always remember our Junior year as time filled with research papers, blowing up test tubes in Chemistry, and as a time of decision in our lives. We swamped Mrs. Keeter with questions pertaining to college, vocations, and even some unmentionables. Somehow though, we made those all important decisions. That left us one more year to prepare.

Our Sophomore year was one of frustration. Throughout this long year, we underwent the dissecting of a frog, dear old Geometry problems, and the excitement of learning about the Renaissance. We became well-adjusted to the pattern of high school life since we had one year's experience behind us. We did learn that those short cuts taught us last year by the Upperclassmen were really not short cuts at all. We wanted to feel like upperclassmen but we didn't quite acquire it. Our privileges were limited even though we were in our second year at Chase. We looked forward to taking that big step toward becoming Juniors and Seniors. After all, there was alot ahead of us- proms, class rings, chemistry and the definite privilege of being a leader.

Our Freshman year was what you might call frantic, but we preferred to call it organized bedlam. We had to learn new things, go over some old things, and forget half of everything. We really felt the stigma of being at "the bottom of the totem pole." It seemed that every step we took forward, there were two steps backward following it. We had difficult times in Algebra with all those "x and y" equations, wondering if it were worth the effort. English and "Romeo and Juliet" was enough to make us blow our brains out. But in spite of it all, we made it through this horrible year.

Our place might have seemed an inferior one at Chase, but we knew that we represented the future of Chase High School and that one day we would take the positions of leadership that were held by the upperclassmen. One day we would be able to do the same things they did to us. We were confronted with the challenge of being True Trojans and we had no doubt that we would make it.

Leading the Student Council this year at Chase was Lori Toney. She was the first female to be elected to this position. She led the council in many projects throughout the year. Among those were participating in the "Spook House" at Harris School, sponsoring a schoolwide movie at Christmas, helping with the Blood Mobile, and sponsoring the "Spring Fling" dance. They also continued the campus Clean-up project.

The Council was very involved with school spirit. They sponsored the Spirit Club and sold Trojan towels.

Student Council

The Chase Beta Club consisted of those students who had maintained a 90 or above average. They always strived for excellence in all phases of their school work. The club participated in several service projects throughout the year. Among those were the UNICEF drive and the sponsorship of a scholarship. Money-raising projects for the club included the T-shirt and doughnut sales. Also this year, they participated with the Key Club and the Keywanettes in sending two students to the Presidential Classroom in Washington, D.C. Again this year, members attended the district convention in Shelby and the state convention in Raleigh.

The Keywanettes was one of the clubs most involved in service projects this year. They participated in one service project each month. These included tray favors for the hospital, a Christmas party for underprivileged children and sold sweet-heart flowers. This year with 34 members the club was a big success. It was sponsored by Miss Kay Johnson and Mrs. Joan McKeithan.

Keywanettes

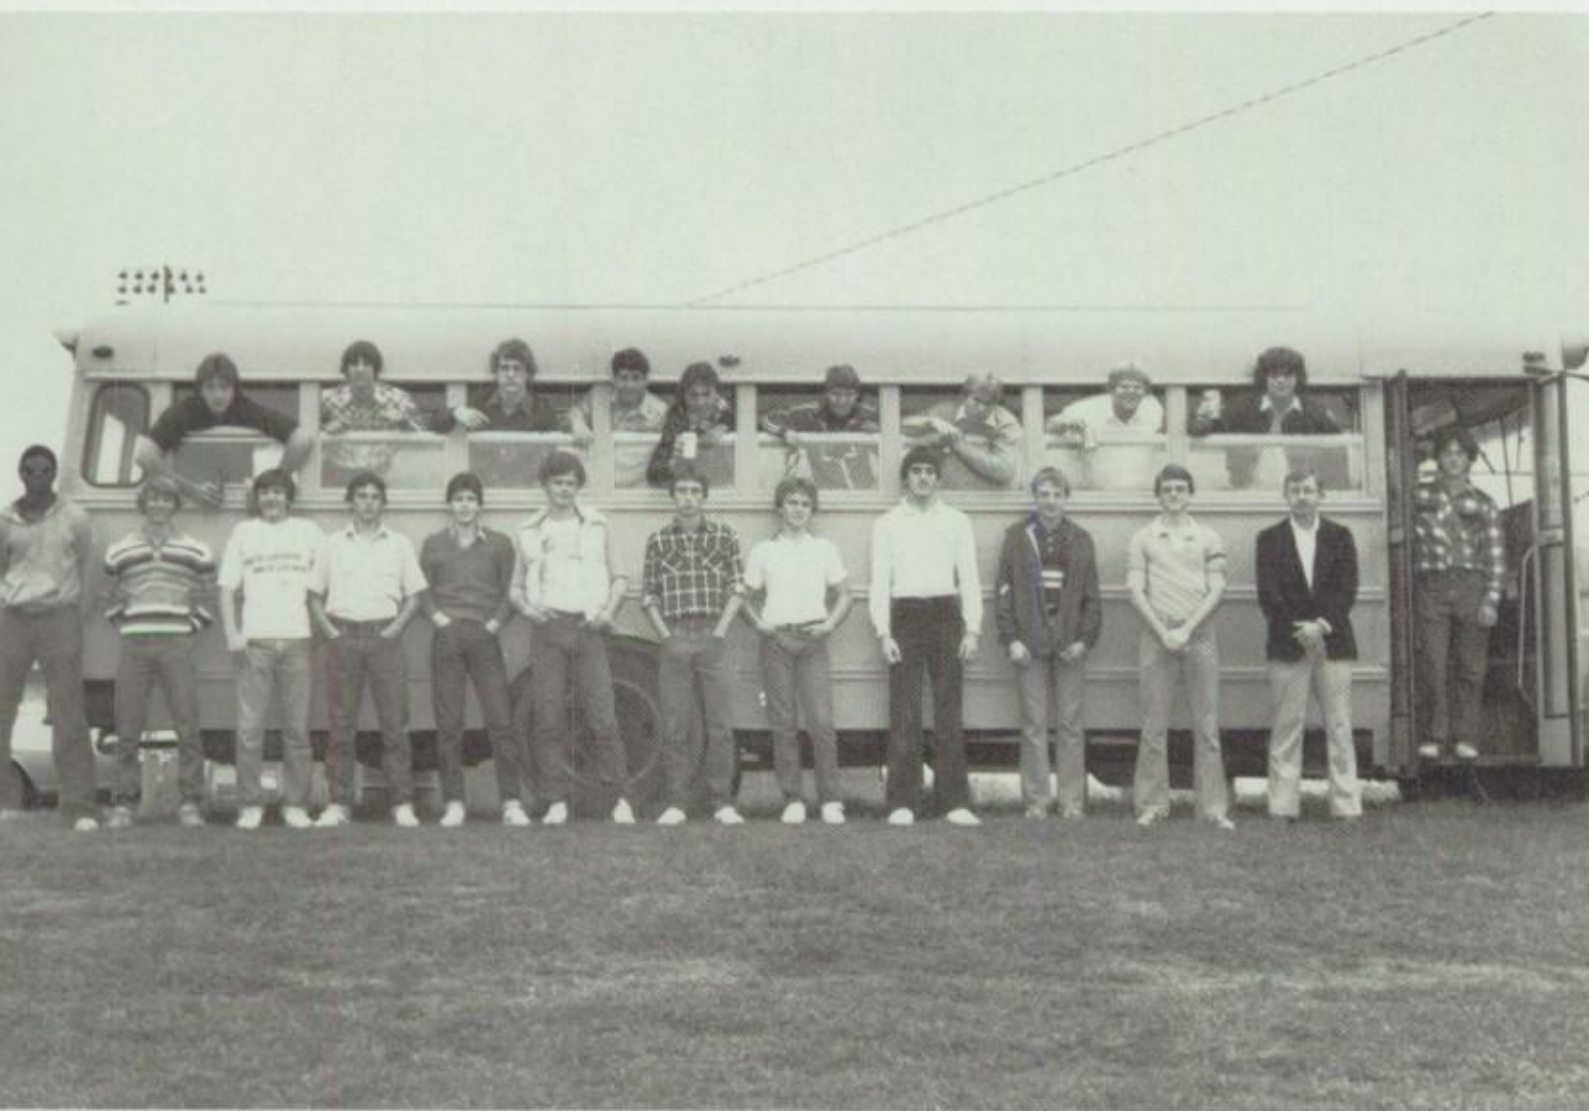

This year the Key Club involved itself in various activities. During National Key Club Week the members honored their teachers in different ways. They aided the local Kiwanis club in the peanut sale and club members helped in raising money for hemophilia foundation.

The Key Club had two major fund-raising activities for the year. They were the annual intramural Basketball Tournament and the Homecoming Dance.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America or DECA consisted of those students who worked in retail and marketing jobs, and those students who worked with the public. The club attended numerous conventions during the year. Among those were the State Convention in Raleigh, the National Convention in Florida, and the District Leadership Conference at Western Carolina University. Other activities the club participated in were the countywide employee banquet and the Parent-Student breakfast. The only fund-raising project for the year was the Tom Watts sale.

DECA Club

This year's Health Careers Club became one of the most outstanding, along with the most active in the school. The year began when the club worked with the Red Cross Blood Mobile. They also visited the Western Carolina Center and held several dinner meetings throughout the year. Programs at the meetings were very informative and provided valuable information members used to decide on a career for the future. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Mary Moore and Mr. Bobby Jenkins.

The Monogram Club consists of those students who had earned a letter in a varsity sport or cheerleading. They were easily recognizable because of the gold jackets they always wore proudly displaying their membership.

This year the club, in conjunction with the newly-formed Spirit Club, sold Trojan towels. Another money raising project included the annual student/faculty basketball game. The club also sponsored the Football Banquet and the All Sports banquet. Sponsors for the group were Mr. John Keeter and Mr. Mickey Lineberger.

Officers

President-Tony Luckadoo
Vice President-Joey Taylor

Monogram Club

The Future Teachers of America (FTA) once again involved themselves with numerous activities during the year. To raise money for these activities, they co-sponsored a dance in the fall with the Latin Club. They held the annual teacher appreciation day where they taught classes themselves. This was a unique situation for the members of the club in that it gave them the opportunity to sit on "the other side" and experience first hand the responsibilities of a classroom teacher. Mrs. Meredith Underwood sponsored the group.

SENIORS

Each year Homecoming is a very special time. During this week we participated in various activities such as blue-gold day, inside-out day, and "rope the warriors" day. On Friday we had a very spirited pep rally. Among the events at the pep rally was a tricycle race between teachers, several football players in a balloon "busting" relay, and the traditional mock homecoming court. To wrap things up, on Friday night, our school was represented by several beautiful girls on the court and Beth Chapman was crowned Homecoming Queen for 1980. Even though the ballgame was a disappointing one, Trojan Spirit still prevailed throughout the entire week of activities.

Fridays as always were filled with excitement for students at Chase. That was the day for pep rallies and the football games that night. Trojan fans consistently supported their team.

Overall Chase had a good season with a 4-6 record. The highlight of the season came with the victory over the Burns Bulldogs who at that time occupied the number one position in the conference ranking. A bitter disappointment during the season occurred when R-S Central defeated Chase. A controversial decision by the referees claimed Chase did not break the plane of the goal line thus denying the Trojans the winning touchdown.

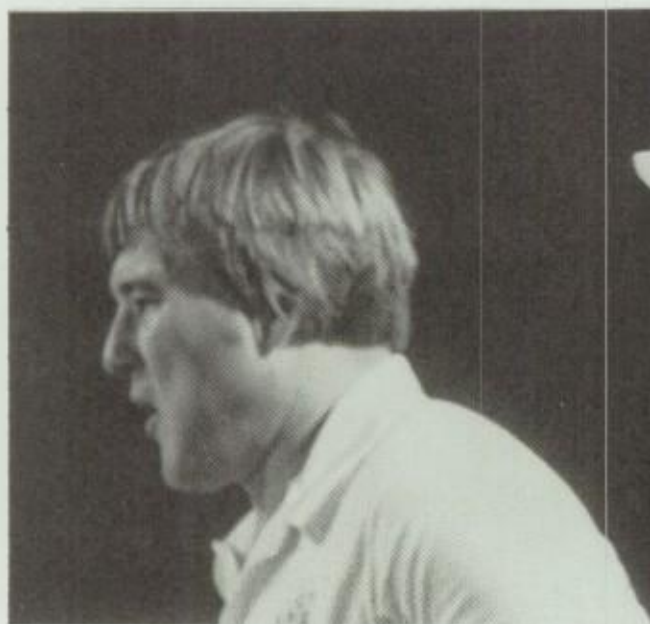

Several Trojan players received recognition for their contribution to the team. Phil Harris was awarded the Player of the Year honor for his outstanding record of 900 yards rushing during the season. The Best Back award went to Derrick Dover while Tony Luckadoo received the Best Lineman honor.

Other players receiving recognition were: Eric Bennett, Most Improved Lineman; Terry Roach, Most Improved Back; Billy Cash, Kenny Burgess, Memorial Award; Rodney Greene, Mr. Hustle; Thomas Williams, Marty Robbins Award; and Tony Twitty, Ray Bradley Award.

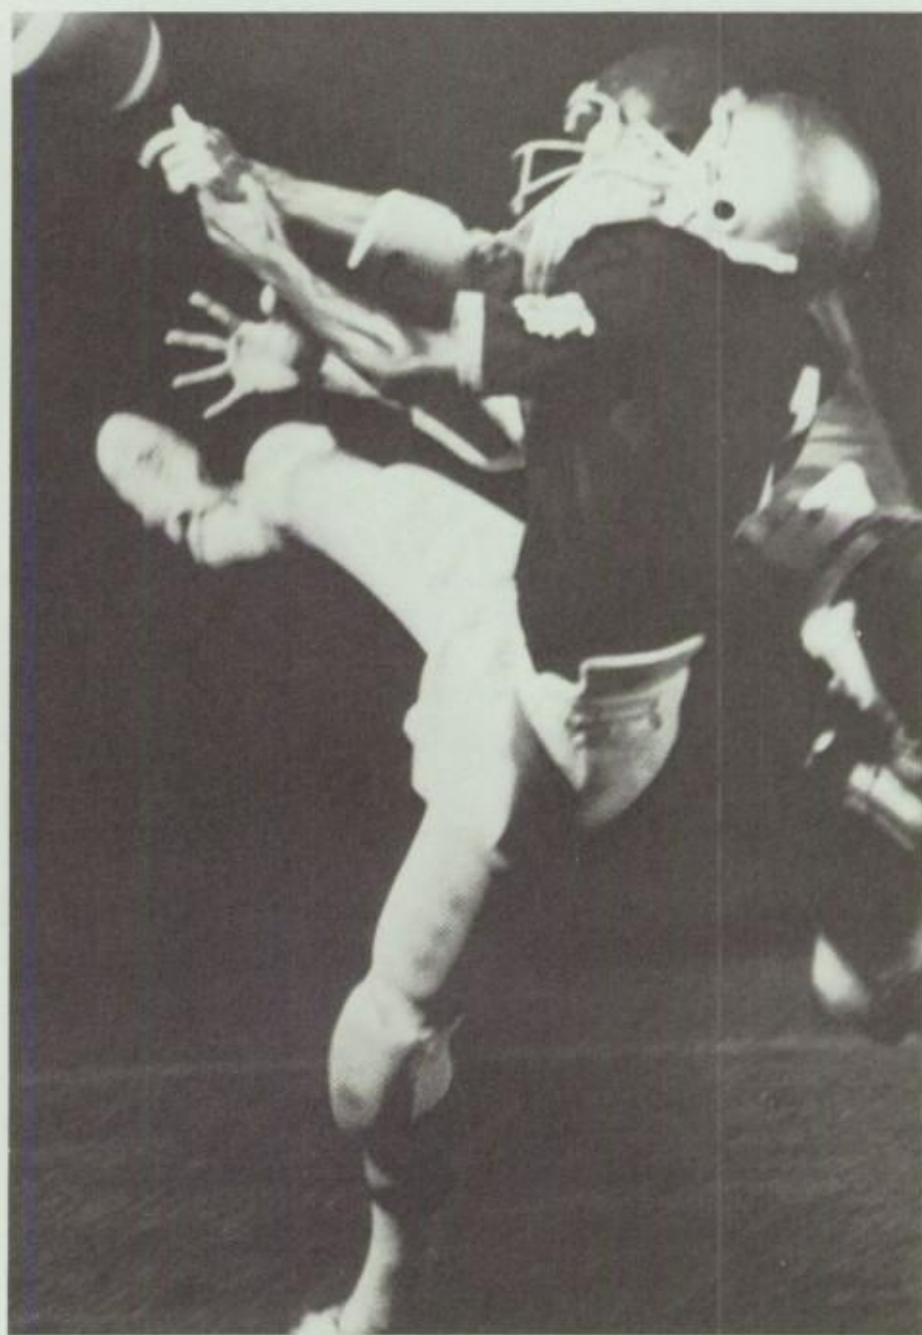

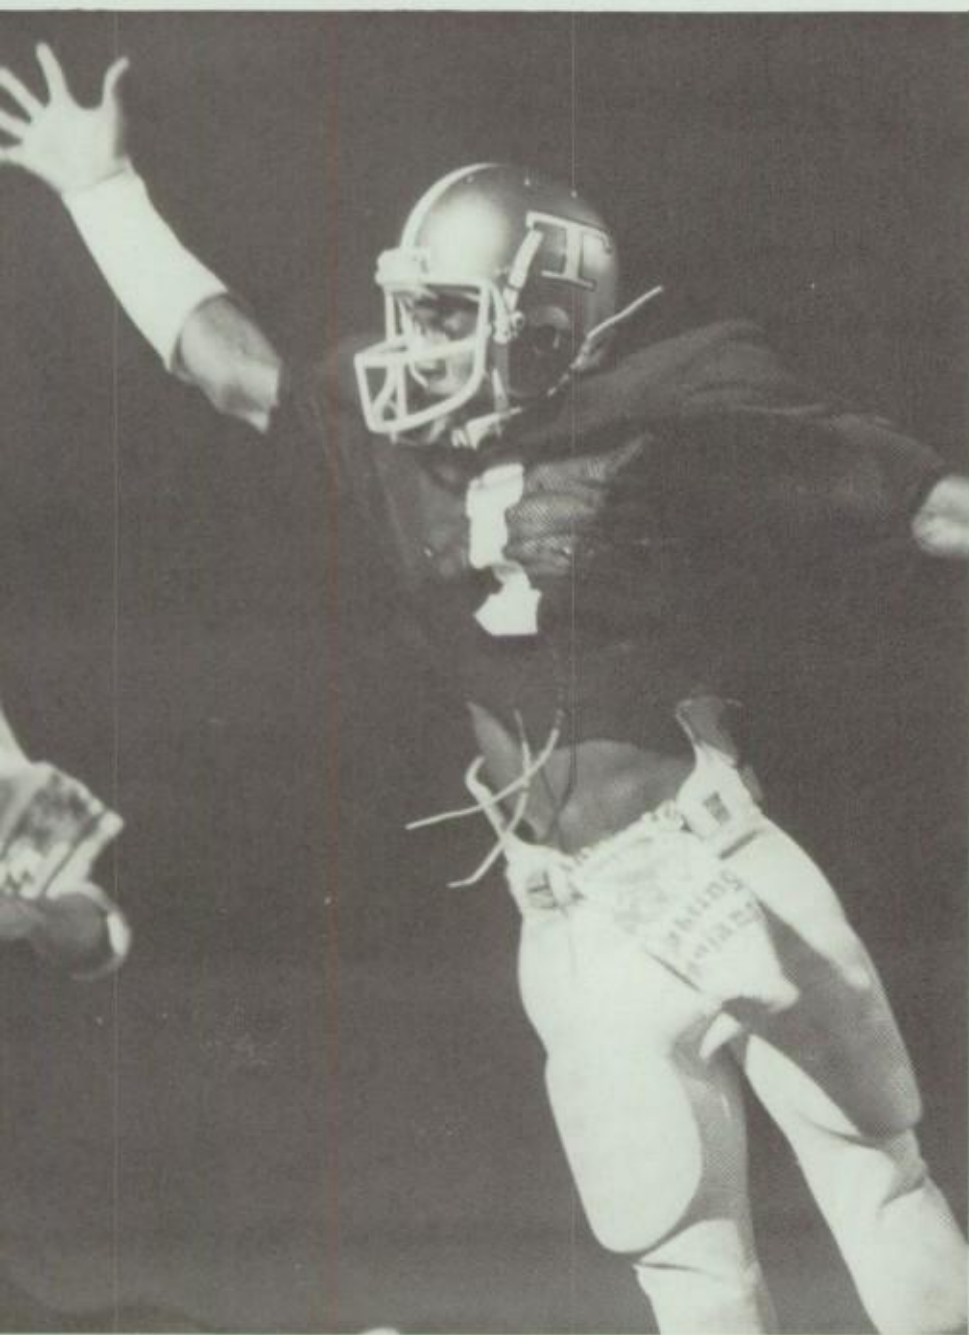

Three players received All-Conference honors. They were: Greg Owens, Center; Tony Luckadoo, Guard; and Danny Bailey, Linebacker.

Volleyball

The Volleyball team was led this year by four senior players- Gigi McSwain, Thelma Twitty, Sherry Twitty, and Lisa Abernethy. The team experienced some difficulty during the season ending with a 4-12 Conference record. The girls were coached this year for the first time by Mr. Gary Phillips.

Autumn Sports

Winter Sports

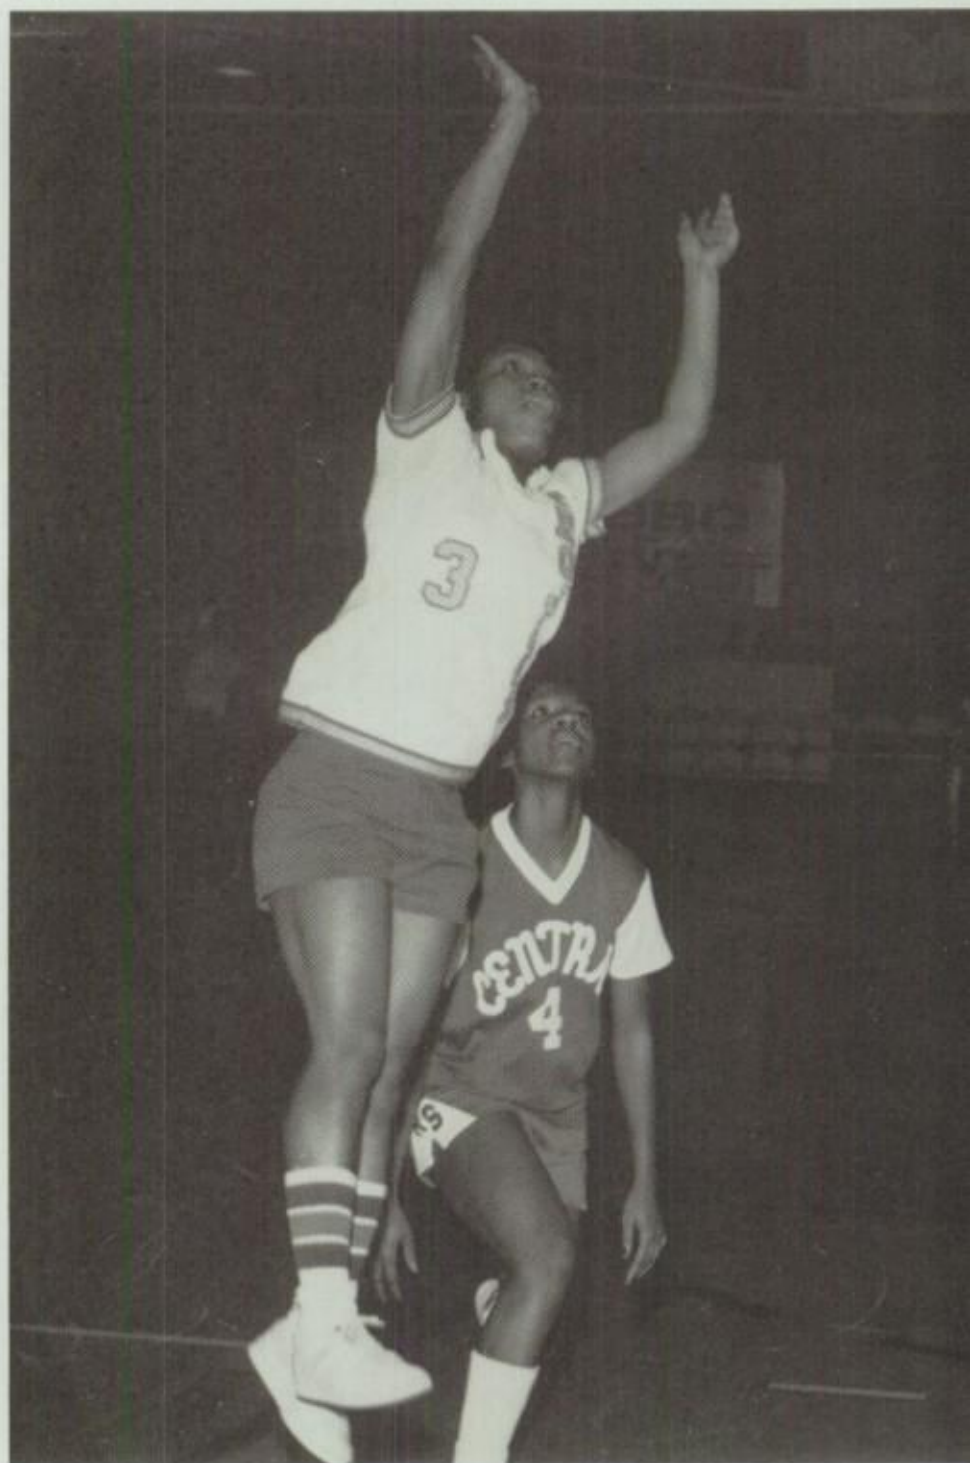

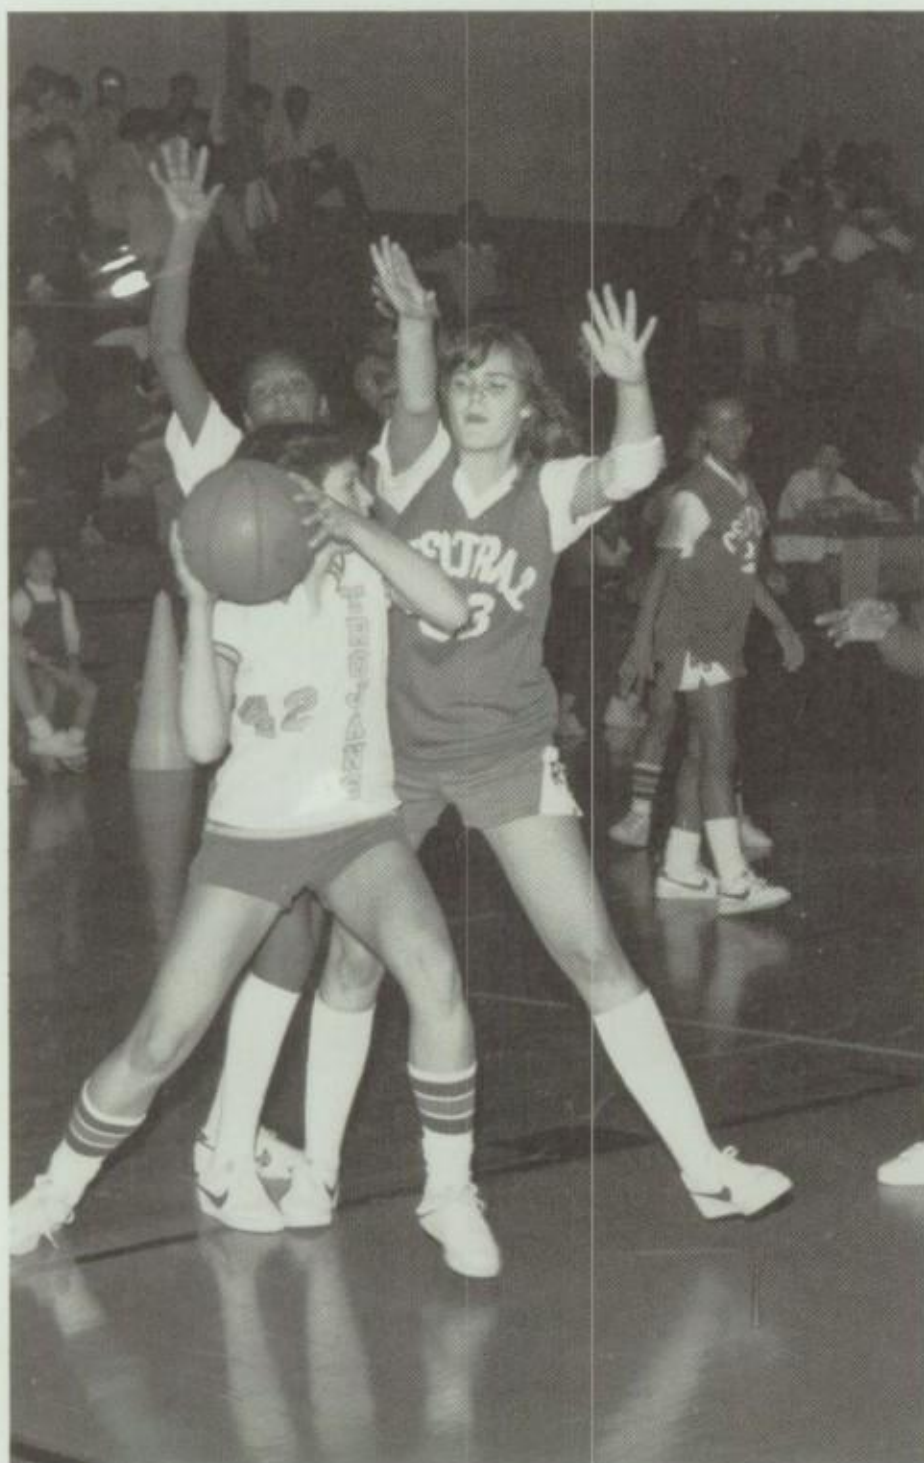

Varsity Girls Basketball

The Lady Trojans, led by their new coach, Sam Metcalf, worked diligently all season. Lack of experience seemed to be the main factor affecting the team's performance this season. They played hard and demonstrated the sportsmanship worthy of a Trojan team.

Three seniors led the team this year. They were Lisa Abernethy, Lori Toney, and Sherry Twitty. Each provided scoring, rebounding, and skill to lead the team throughout the season.

Wrestling

Wrestling is an individual sport. It involves a lot of physical control and training. The sport is divided into weight classes so that each wrestler competes against another wrestler of his approximate size. This allows for participation of some students who normally would not qualify for other sports.

Two outstanding senior members on the squad this year were Tony Luckadoo and Eric Bennett. For his efforts, Tony Luckadoo placed third in the conference meet.

Spring '80 Sports

Golf Team

Bogies, Birdies, Eagles, Pars! These are terms familiar to anyone who plays the game of golf. The 1980 golf team strived to attain these scores as most amateur players do. Although not always successful in reaching their scores, the six members of the team practiced many hours on the course and on the driving range. The team was coached by Mr. Dick Craft.

SPRING '80 SPORTS

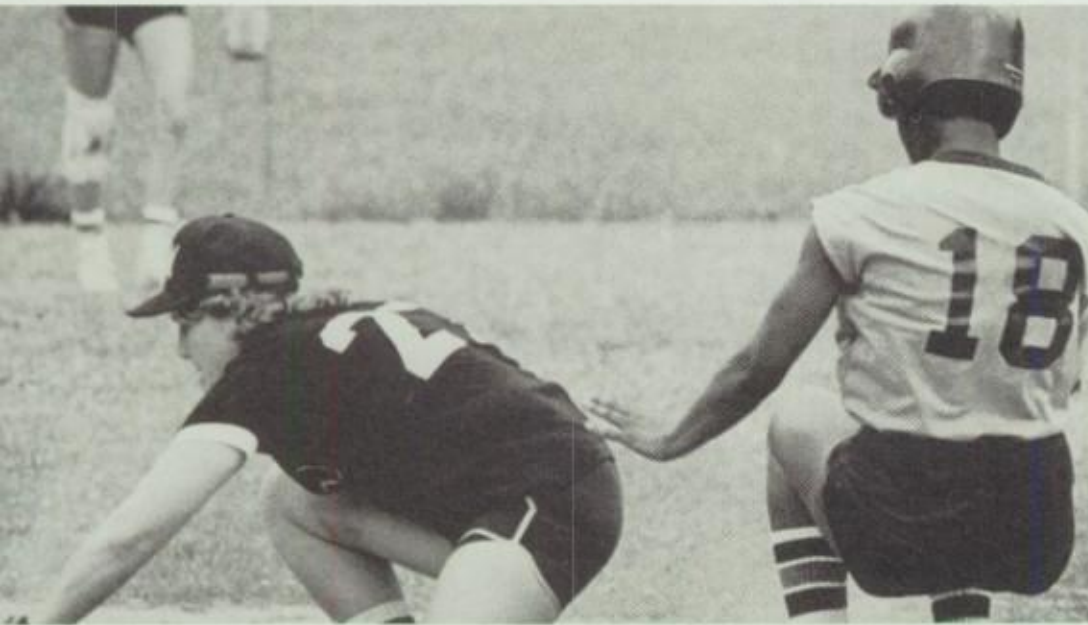

Girls' Softball

The 1980 girls softball team had the best season in the history of the team, reigning over the Southwestern Conference and achieving a fantastic record of 17-3.

Through superior team play and excellent spirit, not to mention incredible determination, the team advanced to the State Championship playoffs only to be defeated in the third round. Those receiving trophies for their outstanding play throughout the season were Maria Vickers, Sandra Bagwell, and Lori Toney.

One who plays baseball must be a quick thinker and must have sharp reflexes. Our Trojan players possessed these qualities. Although the team finished with a 2-11 conference record, they played hard throughout the season.

One outstanding game the Trojans played was the one against R/S Central, in which Greg Owens pitches a no-hitter. Reggie McGinnis and Jeff Caldwell received trophies for their consistently outstanding performances.

There are three groups of people at Chase who work very hard to keep the building clean and heated, cook our meals, and provide transportation to and from Chase each day. These people are seldom recognized for their contributions toward our school. We really do appreciate these people and their hard work.

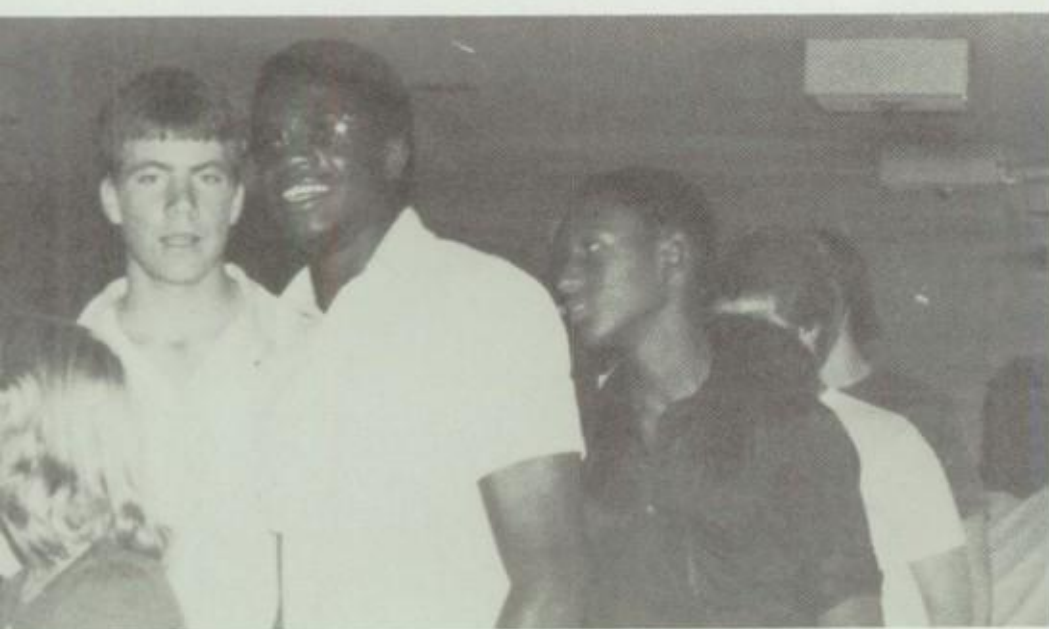

Five freshmen girls led the cheers at freshmen football and JV basketball games. They worked hard to inspire these teams on to victory. These girls were Carla Edwards, Renita White, Becky Deese, Roberta Savercool, and Lisa Epps.

The 1981 TROJAN staff consisted of fifteen hardworking individuals. They worked many hours during school and after school to put this book together. In spite of the confusion, turmoil, and deadlines, they created a fantastic book for you. Their only purpose was to give the student body a book they could be proud of. The staff tried to include activities from all phases of life at Chase. Hopefully they were successful in doing so.

The staff members were:

Becky Laughter
David Roach
Carletha Hopper
Lisa Hopper
Patti Thompson
Cathy Flynn
Debra Harris
Belva Davis

Lynn Byers
Beverly Robbins
Gretchen Roddy
Audrey Camp
Dwayne Duncan
Jill Wells
Lisa Laughter
Kay Johnson, Advisor

As I look back over my last three years at Chase, I see many hectic days and many happy days. Being on the year staff gave me a sense of direction I did not have before in my life. The time spent on the staff was filled with numerous responsibilities and decisions.

I would like to express my appreciation to everyone on the staff who worked so hard to put this book together. It has meant alot to me personally, because I have made many new friends whom I will always cherish.

As you glance through the pages of this book, I hope it will help you remember your days at Chase with all the fond memories it holds for each of us.

Carletha Hopper
Assistant Editor

In high school and in college we
 Look forward to the day
 When we can close our study books
 And put them all away.
 We think that school is limited
 And when that time is through
 The world is ours in which to thrive
 As we may wish to do.
 Yes, schooldays will be over but
 Our learning never ends.
 As we pursue this puzzling life
 With enemies and friends.
 We have to keep on studying
 The world and all its ways.
 And even in our dotage we
 May still be in a daze.
 So let us learn each lesson for
 Whatever it is worth
 And take our time in our attempt
 To conquer all the earth.

James Metcalf

POEM PORTRAITS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

As Editors of the 1981 Trojan, we sincerely hope that this book helps you recall the numerous events that happened throughout the school year. As you look through its pages, always remember the happy times and even the "not so happy" times. For it is these times that will be the topic of many conversations in years to come. Chase High School filled our lives with knowledge and friendships that will last an eternity.

The end of another school year means saying good-bye to a lot of people we may never see again. To the Class of 1981, it means a new beginning as you enter the adult world and assume the responsibilities as concerned and educated citizens. As you go your separate ways, we hope you will always remember the lessons you learned while attending our beloved Chase High School. We would also wish you much success throughout life.

There are many people we need to thank for their contributions to this book. First of all, we would like to express our appreciation to the student body without whom this book would have no purpose. For it is you who provided us with the inspiration to endure the hard work that goes into the construction of this book.

Secondly, we would like to express our gratitude to the members of the 1981 Trojan staff. They sacrifice many hours of their time and were always willing to do anything and everything they were asked. Thank you staff for continually fulfilling your responsibilities and making our job easier. For that we sincerely appreciate your efforts.

As editors, we would also like to thank our photographers, Mr. Hal Lackey and Delmar Studios, and Mr. Ron Paris and "The Daily Courier." These people provided an invaluable service because without them, there would be many empty spaces throughout these pages. Another person we would like to thank for his guidance is Mr. Jerry Gay of American Yearbook Company. He was always willing to contribute his knowledge about yearbooks in showing us various ways to make our book better.

Finally, we would like to recognize Miss Kay Johnson, our advisor. She is the one person that constantly encouraged us when we encountered those seemingly unsurmountable barriers. If not for her leadership and guidance, this book would not be a reality. Miss Johnson is a unique individual and we appreciate her very much. Thank you seems so inappropriate for all her hard work but we do thank you Miss Johnson for everything you did for us.

In closing, we would like to say that being the editors of the 1981 Trojan has been a most enjoyable experience. It helped us develop as individuals and assume responsibilities that served as a continuing element in our growth toward maturity. We hope this book exhibits the spirit that existed throughout the year and will continue to exist in our hearts as we depart from this school.
